DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE This house is located about 1/2 mile south of Md. Route 64 just east of the Antietam Creek in Washington County, Md. It is situated on a bluff above the Antietam and faces east. The structure is a two-story, four-bay brick cased log dwelling with white trim. A one-story concrete block lean-to addition is attached to the rear or west wall. The walls are set on low limestone foundations. Bricks are laid in all stretcher bond to the gables where common bonding is evident. The tenants have observed log construction beneath the bricks. Windows appear to have been spaced evenly in the front elevation. They have narrow frames below wide wooden lintels and contain two-over-two pane Victorian period sashes. Other windows in the building are similar in appearance. One small window at the first story level of the south elevation may retain its original dimensions. The main entrance is located in the second bay from the south end of the house. It is framed similarly to the windows and includes a narrow transom. A 20th century one-story porch extends the length of the front elevation. The roof is covered with sheet metal and terminates with a barge board set against the end walls. The eaves are finished with courses of simple molding. The house is in good condition and is located on a tract containing 29.32 acres.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The area of significance of this house is its architecture. Although it has been sheathed with brick and is thus greatly altered, it does provide an example of Washington County's log building tradition.

Many log structures were built in Washington County from the earliest days of settlement to well into the 19th century. A number of these buildings continue in use today disguised by various forms of siding or bricks. These buildings are worthy of note as representatives of a major architectural group in Western Maryland and the Cumberland Valley.

The late 19th century alterations to the buildings should also be considered for their merit as Victorian period adaptations of earlier structures.
